“The courses I’m taking at Temple aren’t offered at my home university. These courses have helped me see architecture from a different point of view and gain a better understanding of people’s needs. It’s the first time I’ve been to the U.S., but I’m sure it won’t be the last.”

I've learned a lot from sharing, listening and respecting fellow students' thoughts. My long-term goal is to be a professor in the U.S., become an acknowledged business scholar and work toward a better world.”

BOB MANTEL
